Liver: Vital Organ

Every day liver performs numerous complex jobs that are essential for life

It filters chemicals like drugs & alcohol from the blood; regulates your hormones & blood sugar levels; stores energy from the nutrients you take in & makes blood proteins, bile & several enzymes that the body needs.

Why Liver Care

Liver is essential for digesting food & ridding your body of toxic substances

Damage to your liver may result from

- alcohol abuse or poor diet
- hepatitis viruses
- toxins (from substances such as paracetamol, tobacco & marijuana)
- some genetic defects
- autoimmune disorders

If not treated at early stages, over time, damage to the liver results in scarring (cirrhosis), which can lead to liver failure
